Yard Waste Tons Collected

Litter Costs /Bags $29,579.00 Zero

Educational Activity:

COLLECTION: Advertising and news articles in papers for collection times end rates. Notices concerning Solid Waste were placed on garbage bills sent to the 5600+ households billed by the county and water companies.

DISPOSAL: Tours of drop-off site and CD&D for Leadership Hart County and new recycling committee members. Articles in the paper to advertise Commonwealth Cleanup Week, the twice-yearly large item drop-off, and the year 'round availability of the drop-off center and yard waste pickups. Presentations to Hart County Leadership classes concerning Solid Waste issues.

RECYCLING/REDUCTION: Articles in the paper and on the radio concerning the formation of a citizen committee to research recycling in the county. The group has been divided into subgroups targeting finance, education, and marketing. The recycling committee and coordinator published articles in the paper showing the savings to the service through the significant reduction in landfill tipping fees when recyclables are separated from the waste stream. For example, tipping costs of $40,000 per year could be realized just by recycling cardboard and paper.

OPEN DUMPING/LITTERING: Photos and an article in the paper showing before and after clean up by the Cave and Karst Museum and the National Spelunkers' Society on a large sinkhole in the county.

Before and after photos and articles in the newspaper showing the Commonwealth cleanup of Concord Church Road, Glen Lilly and the collections for the large item drop-off. The Cave and Karst Museum in Horse Cave expanded its educational efforts and hired a new director of education to conduct accredited teacher training courses throughout the Commonwealth. The Cave and Karst Museum also expanded its exhibits, cave exploration classes, newsletters to schools in the Commonwealth, and magazine distribution across the country. The Cave and Karst Museum and the City of Horse Cave were featured in the April 2001 edition of Reader's Digest in an article about the recovery efforts for Hidden River Cave under Main Street in Horse Cave.

The American Cave Conservation Association and the Mayor of Horse Cave were given the 2001 Earth Day Award for their efforts to restore Hidden River Cave by the Environmental Quality Commission. Local and statewide newspapers and radio covered the ceremony.

ENFORCEMENT: Articles in the paper to highlight enforcement actions, court cases and warning letters sent to citizens involved in illegal dumping.

2001 County Annual Report Summary

COLLECTION: A website is updated to inform about collection opportunities. Public hearings were conducted to discuss the possible legislation dealing with mandatory collection. Newspaper articles on this topic. Discussions were held in Corydon concerning mandatory collection.

DISPOSAL: Presentations a civic groups and schools about proper waste disposal

RECYCLING/REDUCTION: website is updated to let folks know of their recycling options. Schools in county and city were given recycling containers with a kickoff by NAPCOR. Transportation of recyclables from schools involved both city and county workers. SWC visits schools to teach the how to's of recycling. A float was entered into the Christmas Parade with the theme of "Recycling is Cool in School" and won first place. Participated in Earth Day and encouraged recycling. The Holy Name school has conducted a business that markets cards made from recycled paper. The SWC promoted recycling at local civic groups and focused on the school recycling project. Participated in and advertised for the "Rinse and Return" program. Hosted a Christmas tree recycling program and taught folks that they could be used as fish habitat. Continued to operate five recycling centers, and produced new brochures detailing the local recycling options.

OPEN DUMPING/LITTERING: A large cooperative effort was put behind cleaning some large dumps under the twin bridges. Press conferences with dignitaries were conducted. Television crews were present. Participated in CCW and tire cleanups. Inmates were used extensively on litter cleanups and at the recycling center. Henderson city conducted a spring cleanup. Three smaller communities also conducted cleanups. A eyesore in the river(a tug named Virgie May) was cut up and sold for scrap. Many leaders in the area contributed towards the tugs eventual removal. The SWC worked with the Ohio River Beautification Project to remove much waste from the river including 20 drums of unknown substances.

ENFORCEMENT: A 1000 $ rewards program called "Crime Stoppers" was initiated. A newspaper article was run to identify a dumper caught on video. The article including pictures resulted in a conviction. A media blitz warning of fines and jail time for illegal dumping was conducted.
